Using backup copies of preinstalled software

Your MessagePad 2000 came with floppy disks that include all of the software that was preinstalled on your MessagePad. If you delete the software, you can use these backup disks to reinstall the software on your MessagePad.

If you lose or misplace the backup disks, you can obtain replacement disks. U.S. customers can call Apple at 1-800-SOS-APPL. Outside the U.S., please contact your local Apple Assistance Center.

Newton

Using the Newton Works word processor

Your MessagePad came with the Newton Works word processor. If you want to use the word processor, you'll need to use the Newton Keyboard with your MessagePad. For more information, see Appendix E, "Using the Newton Keyboard," in the MessagePad 2000 User's Manual.

Using PC Card modems

When using a PC card modem, it is best to use the MessagePad 2000 NiMH Rechargeable Battery Pack or plug in the optional AC adapter. Most modem cards require a lot of power and significantly shorten the life of alkaline batteries. This problem does not occur when using the NiMH battery pack or the AC adapter.

Printing

Using StyleWriter printers

When printing directly from your MessagePad to a StyleWriter 1500 or 2500 series printer, please connect to the printer using a serial cable.

Printing items to a networked printer

If you print to a networked printer and your document contains the Simple font, has right- or full-justified text, and includes italic or bold styles, some pixels may be cut off. To have your document print correctly, change all the text to the Fancy font or to the Simple font and don't use bold or italic styles.
